TYLER TECHNOLOGIES' COURT SOLUTIONS ATTRACT GROWING NUMBERS OF CLIENTS NATIONWIDE

Dallas, October 16, 2008 -- Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) today announced an approaching milestone for its court solutions—its 700th court client. Tyler's leadership in the justice market has led to unprecedented growth of its case management solutions for municipal, county and state courts. Tyler's products have proven their versatility in improving the efficiency and effectiveness of any judiciary, regardless of size or complexity.

Installed in more than 20 states, Tyler's INCODE municipal court solution client base has recently experienced significant growth in Missouri, Oklahoma, and Kansas. This is due in part to the product's scalability and highly configurable nature which allows either a small rural town or a large metropolitan city to operate at peak efficiency. Some of the larger municipalities using this solution include:

- Birmingham, AL
- St. Louis County, MO
- Arlington, TX
- Lubbock, TX
- Oklahoma City, OK

Since the introduction of Tyler's Odyssey county and state court solution in 2001, Tyler has added state-wide contracts with Minnesota, New Hampshire, Indiana and New Mexico to its numerous county clients. The solution is in use in more than 25 percent of the most populous counties in the U.S., including:

- Miami-Dade County (Miami), FL
- Dallas County (Dallas),TX
- Wayne County (Detroit), MI
- Broward County (Fort Lauderdale), FL
- Tarrant County (Fort Worth), TX
- Orange County (Orlando), FL

"Tyler's Courts & Justice solutions continue to build momentum in the national marketplace with success that spans from state-wide implementations to counties and municipalities. Our deep domain expertise and commitment to serving court systems of all sizes are reflected in the flexibility and exceptional functionality that our court solutions consistently provide," noted John S. Marr, Jr., Tyler's president and chief executive officer.
