Ortho Clinical Diagnostics (Ortho), a global leader of in vitro Ortho Clinical Diagnostics (Ortho), a global leader of in vitro diagnostics, will host the Ortho Lab Leader Scientific Summit on May 8 and 9 at the Conrad Hotel in Seoul, South Korea.

The summit, arranged with the support of the College of American Pathologists, will be an opportunity for lab leaders in the Asia-Pacific region to gain insights from some of the brightest minds in the field of diagnostics about the latest innovations in clinical labs and transfusion medicine.

“Ortho is committed to serving as a trusted advisor to the diagnostics community around the world,” said Alex Socarrás, Ortho’s chief commercial officer. “Diagnostics is rapidly evolving to meet increasing challenges and keep pace with medical innovation worldwide, and helping labs thrive despite the increasing pressures they face is important for us.”

Expert speakers from Korea, the U.S. and Europe will cover automation, leadership and quality in the lab, acute kidney injury and cardiac biomarkers, and work practice standardization.

“This year’s Lab Leader Summit continues Ortho’s tradition of bringing together the most innovative thinkers in diagnostics throughout Asia, as we discuss how to address operational challenges and persistent areas of high unmet medical need,” said Anand Pande, head of Ortho's Asia-Pacific region.

In March, Ortho sponsored a second annual Transfusion Medicine Summit in China. And in July, Ortho will host its third annual “C-Suite Summit” in Singapore to address key issues of priority to senior hospital leaders.
