RF Magic, Inc. Receives Equipment Financing From Silicon Valley Bank

SAN DIEGO - January 9, 2002 - Silicon Valley Bank (the "Bank"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Silicon Valley Bancshares, today announced it provided RF Magic, Inc. with $1.5 million in equipment financing. RF Magic will use the financing to acquire the equipment and software necessary to support the company's growth.

RF Magic is a fabless semiconductor company focused on radio frequency integrated circuits (RFICs). The company designs, develops and sells radio frequency integrated circuit solutions for emerging broadband access markets.

"Our relationship with Silicon Valley Bank will be a great benefit to us as we grow our company," said Mark Foley, president and CEO of RF Magic. "We are pleased with our lending team's expertise in our industry and we appreciate their confidence in our management team and our business plan."

"After working closely with RF Magic's founders for more than a year, we are excited to support the launch of the company's initial products with this financing," said Jeff Huhn, senior relationship manager in the Bank's San Diego office.
