Green Plains Renewable Energy, Inc. Merger Submitted for Shareholder Vote

OMAHA, NE -- (MARKET WIRE) -- 09/08/2008 -- The previously-announced merger between Green Plains Renewable Energy, Inc. (NASDAQ: GPRE) (AMEX: GPRE), and VBV LLC and its subsidiaries, is being submitted for shareholder and equity holder approval. The related registration statement of Green Plains was declared effective by the Securities and Exchange Commission on September 5, 2008, and the proxy statement/prospectus will be mailed to Green Plains' shareholders and to VBV and its subsidiary members beginning on or about September 10, 2008.

"With shareholder and equity holder approval," said Wayne Hoovestol, Green Plains' Chief Executive Officer, "this merger adds depth to Green Plains' vertically-integrated operations that will span the ethanol value chain from corn procurement through ethanol production, marketing and distribution. Green Plains will become one of the largest publicly-traded ethanol companies, with an expected ethanol production capacity of 330 million gallons per year."

At closing, VBV's ethanol plants, currently under construction, and its ethanol marketing and distribution business will be combined with Green Plains' ethanol production, grain, agronomy, feed and petroleum businesses. Simultaneously at closing, certain of VBV's equity holders will invest $60 million in Green Plains' common stock at a price of $10 per share.

"Combined, Green Plains and VBV have the talent and financial resources needed to accelerate plans for future growth," continued Hoovestol. "With the merger, our shareholders will be well-positioned to benefit from Green Plains' ability to leverage opportunities in the industry."

Todd Becker, VBV's Chief Executive Officer, stated, "The combination of Green Plains and VBV creates the strong and efficient platform that is necessary for a competitive, commodity-driven business. Additionally, members of VBV's subsidiaries will benefit from liquidity and diversification of their investment."

Green Plains' shareholders and members of VBV's subsidiaries will be provided voting instructions in the proxy statement/prospectus. Green Plains' shareholders can vote anytime until October 10, 2008. The votes will be tallied at a special meeting of the shareholders on October 10, 2008.

"Green Plains' Board of Directors unanimously recommended approval of the merger," said Hoovestol. "We encourage Green Plains' shareholders to vote as soon as they receive the proxy in order to avoid the additional expense of proxy solicitation."

If approved, the closing of the merger is subject to certain additional conditions and contingencies. Closing is expected to occur shortly after shareholder approval.
