Sanmina Receives 2017 Supplier Excellence Premier Award From Raytheon

11/2/2017

Award Highlights Sanmina's Technology Leadership and Performance Excellence

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 2, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Sanmina Corporation (Nasdaq: SANM) a leading integrated manufacturing solutions company making some of the world's most complex and innovative electronic, optical and mechanical products, announced today that Raytheon has recognized Sanmina with a Premier Supplier Excellence Award for their outstanding achievement. Premier awards are awarded to suppliers whom have demonstrated premier achievement for Raytheon in business management, technology, partnership, or affordability. Only the highest achieving Suppliers are awarded this honor.

Sanmina's Costa Mesa, California facility received Raytheon's Premier Award for excellence in technology, quality and delivery performance. This award recognizes Sanmina's leadership and expertise in the high reliability interconnect technologies required for Raytheon's mission critical military and aerospace products. Sanmina's technology center in Costa Mesa specializes in advanced flex, rigid flex and printed circuit board technology, memory, printed circuit board assembly and system integration. Sanmina specializes in the most advanced flex circuits, and printed circuit boards with up to 70 layers and other new technology.

"We are very proud of this award, and Raytheon's recognition of our commitment to technical innovation, operations excellence and customer focus," said Rich Kampf, President of Sanmina's Interconnect Systems Division. "The Sanmina and Raytheon engineering teams are strong partners in the development of new capabilities and processes that support some of Raytheon's most advanced products."

Sanmina has been a leader in technology for mission critical aerospace and defense systems for many years. Sanmina has 20 design, manufacturing and technology centers in the U.S., giving customers a complete capability including optical, microelectronics, printed circuit boards, enclosures, precision machining, plastics, design, system manufacturing and configure to order services.
