Cautionary Statements

This presentation contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of securities legislation in the United States and Canada, including statements regarding anticipated production, costs, mining rates, mine plans, grades, recovery rates, cash flow, mine life, exploration and development efforts, capital expenditures, anticipated returns, operations and development at the Palmarejo complex and Kensington, expansion projects, exploration efforts, the impact of the new gold stream agreement at Palmarejo, and initiatives to transition to strong, sustainable free cash flow, maintain a flexible balance sheet, extend and upgrade future production via near-mine exploration, establish a pipeline of growth projects and continue delivering on commitments. Such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause Coeur's actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Such factors include, among others, the risks and hazards inherent in the mining business (including risks inherent in developing large-scale mining projects, environmental hazards, industrial accidents, weather or geologically related conditions), changes in the market prices of gold and silver and a sustained lower price environment, the uncertainties inherent in Coeur's production, exploratory and developmental activities, including risks relating to permitting and regulatory delays, ground conditions, grade variability, any future labor disputes or work stoppages, the uncertainties inherent in the estimation of gold and silver ore reserves, changes that could result from Coeur's future acquisition of new mining properties or businesses, reliance on third parties to operate certain mines where Coeur owns silver production and reserves and the absence of control over mining operations in which Coeur or its subsidiaries hold royalty or streaming interests and risks related to these mining operations including results of mining and exploration activities, environmental, economic and political risks of the jurisdiction in which the mining operations are located, the loss of any third-party smelter to which Coeur markets silver and gold, the effects of environmental and other governmental regulations, the risks inherent in the ownership or operation of or investment in mining properties or businesses in foreign countries, Coeur's ability to raise additional financing necessary to conduct its business, make payments or refinance its debt, as well as other uncertainties and risk factors set out in filings made from time to time with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Canadian securities regulators, including, without limitation, Coeur's most recent reports on Form 10-K and Form 10-Q. Actual results, developments and timetables could vary significantly from the estimates presented. Readers are cautioned not to put undue reliance on forward-looking statements. Coeur disclaims any intent or obligation to update publicly such forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. Additionally, Coeur undertakes no obligation to comment on analyses, expectations or statements made by third parties in respect of Coeur, its financial or operating results or its securities.

Dana Willis, Coeur's Director, Resource Geology and a qualified person under Canadian National Instrument 43-101, supervised the preparation of the scientific and technical information concerning Coeur's mineral projects in this presentation. Mineral resources are in addition to mineral reserves and do not have demonstrated economic viability. Inferred mineral resources are considered too speculative geologically to have the economic considerations applied to them that would enable them to be considered for estimation of mineral reserves, and there is no certainty that the inferred mineral resources will be realized. Insofar as the re-scoped mine plan at Kensington described in this presentation is at the level of a preliminary economic assessment, it includes inferred mineral resources and does not have as high a level of certainty as a plan that was based solely on proven and probable reserves. For a description of the key assumptions, parameters and methods used to estimate mineral reserves and resources, as well as data verification procedures and a general discussion of the extent to which the estimates may be affected by any known environmental, permitting, legal, title, taxation, socio-political, marketing or other relevant factors, Canadian investors should see the Technical Reports for each of Coeur's properties as filed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

Cautionary Note to U.S. Investors - The United States Securities and Exchange Commission permits U.S. mining companies, in their filings with the SEC, to disclose only those mineral deposits that a company can economically and legally extract or produce. We may use certain terms in public disclosures, such as "measured," "indicated," "inferred" and "resources," that are recognized by Canadian regulations, but that SEC guidelines generally prohibit U.S. registered companies from including in their filings with the SEC. U.S. investors are urged to consider closely the disclosure in our Form 10-K which may be secured from us, or from the SEC's website at http://www.sec.gov.

Non-U.S. GAAP Measures - We supplement the reporting of our financial information determined under United States generally accepted accounting principles (U.S. GAAP) with certain non-U.S. GAAP financial measures, adjusted EBITDA, adjusted costs applicable to sales per silver equivalent ounce, and adjusted all-in sustaining costs. We believe that these adjusted measures provide meaningful information to assist management, investors and analysts in understanding our financial results and assessing our prospects for future performance. We believe these adjusted financial measures are important indicators of our recurring operations because they exclude items that may not be indicative of, or are unrelated to our core operating results, and provide a better baseline for analyzing trends in our underlying businesses. We believe adjusted EBITDA, adjusted costs applicable to sales per silver equivalent ounce, and adjusted all-in sustaining costs are important measures in assessing the Company's overall financial performance.

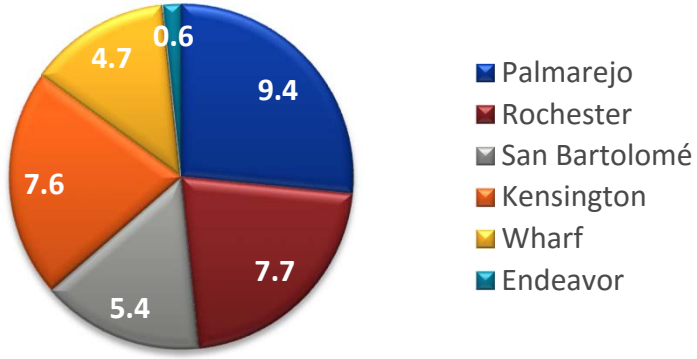

We primarily reference costs applicable to sales and adjusted costs applicable to sales which exclude amortization. Gold and silver equivalence (AuEq and AgEq) assumes a silver to gold ratio of 60:1 unless otherwise noted. Average realized prices used for average realized costs for FY 2013, 2014, and 2015 and 1Q and 2Q of 2016 were $23.94, $18.87, $15.46, $15.16 and $17.38 for silver, respectively, and $1,327, 1,1252, $1,143, $1,178 and $1,255 for gold, respectively.

Successful Execution of Companywide Repositioning

Palmarejo

- Transitioned to UG-only operation to maximize grade, margins and cash flow
- Accelerating mining rates from new higher grade Independencia deposit
- New FNV terms expected to significantly improve cash flows going forward
- Consolidated land package offers strong exploration potential

Rochester

- Completed $60M+ of investments to nearly double mining rates, leading to 67% AgEq[1] production growth between 2013 and 2015 and a 40% reduction in unit costs
- Construction of Stage IV leach pad expansion has begun
- Promising drill program underway to extend high-grade East Rochester zone

Wharf

- Significant operational improvements and reserve expansion since acquisition in February 2015
- Focused on potential for incremental cost reductions
- Processing enhancements driving higher recovery rates

Catalysts Driving Value

Kensington

- Development of high-grade Jualin deposit, which carries an expected ~70% IRR, is over 50% complete with an initial reserve estimate expected at year-end
- 50% increase in throughput since 2012
- Incorporating high-grade zones from main orebody into near-term production

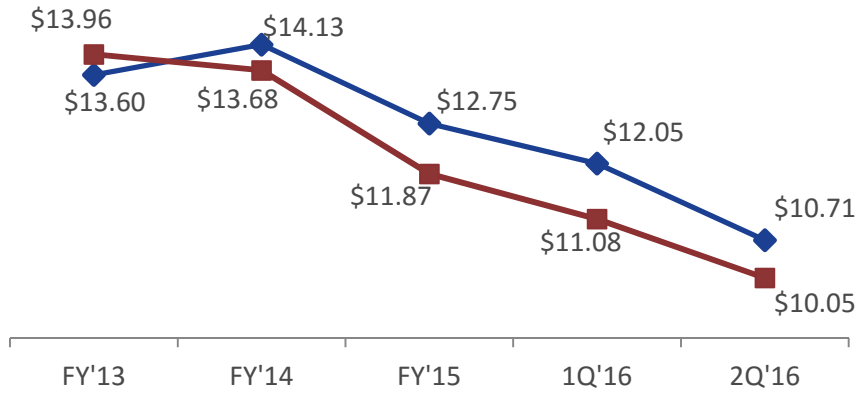

San Bartolomé

- Continuing to source higher-grade, lower-cost ore from third parties to boost cash flow
- Processing enhancements driving higher recovery rates

Industry-Leading Cost Reductions

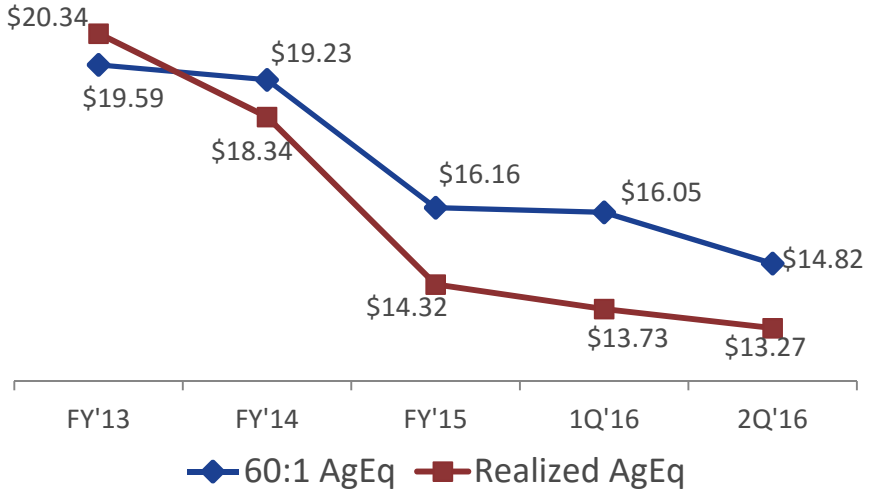

Adj. CAS / AgEqOz[1] (Primary Silver Mines)

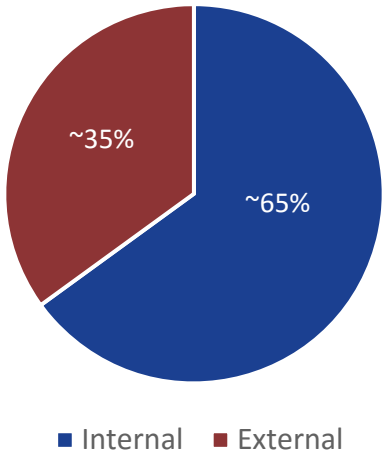

Adj. CAS / AuEqOz[1] (Gold Mines)

Companywide Adj. AISC / AgEqOz[1]

Cost Reduction Highlights

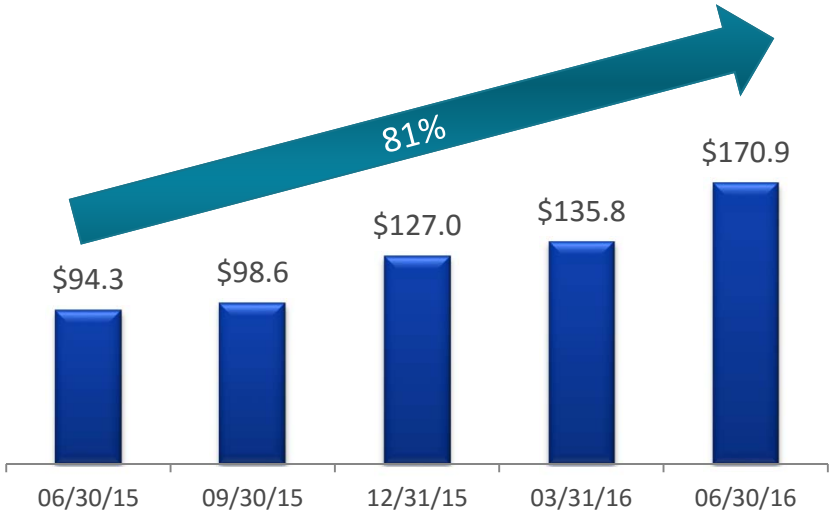

- ~65% of reductions in AISC / AgEq oz[1] between 2013 and 2015 were internally generated vs. ~35% that were a result of lower input costs (i.e., diesel and FX)
- Internally generated cost reductions include operational efficiencies, higher recovery rates and rationalization of outside services

Note: Wharf included beginning 2Q 2015 as no sales were recorded in 1Q 2015.

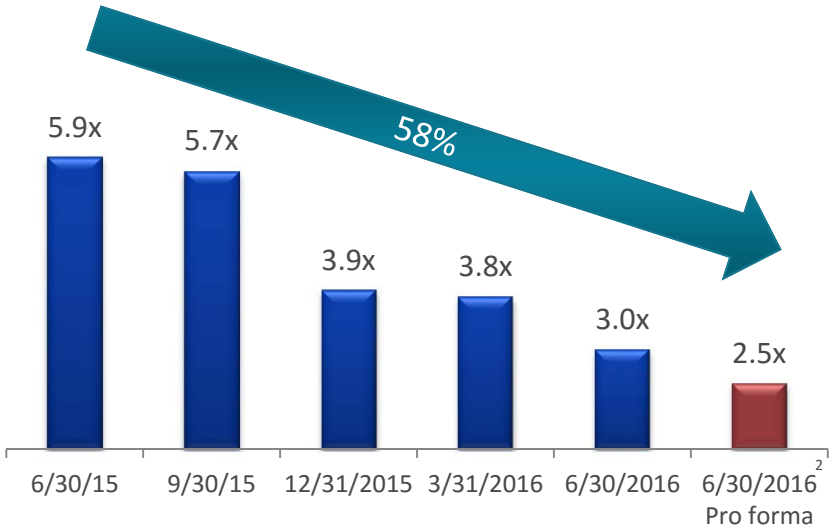

1. See non-GAAP reconciliation tables in the appendix to this presentation. For purposes of silver and gold equivalence, a 60:1 ratio is assumed except where noted as average realized prices.

Notes to the above mineral reserves and resources:

1. Effective December 31, 2015 except Endeavor, effective June 30, 2015.
2. Assumed metal prices for estimated reserves were $17.50 per ounce silver and $1,250 per ounce gold, except for San Bartolomé, Rosario and lower 76 underground deposits at Palmarejo at $15.50 per ounce of silver and $1,150 per ounce of gold, Endeavor at $2,400 per tonne zinc, $2,200 per tonne lead and $17.00 per ounce of silver, and Wharf at $1,275 per ounce of gold. Proven and probable reserves (other than Endeavor) were also evaluated using $15.50 per ounce of silver and $1,150 per ounce of gold. It was determined that substantially all proven and probable reserves could be economically and legally extracted or produced at these lower price assumptions.
3. Mineral resources are in addition to mineral reserves and do not have demonstrated economic viability. Inferred mineral resources are considered too speculative geologically to have the economic considerations applied to them that would enable them to be considered for estimation of mineral reserves, and there is no certainty that the inferred mineral resources will be realized.
4. Rounding of tons and ounces, as required by reporting guidelines, may result in apparent differences between tons, grade, and contained metal content.
5. For details on the estimation of mineral resources and reserves, including the key assumptions, parameters and methods used to estimate the mineral resources and reserves, Canadian investors should refer to the NI 43-101-compliant Technical Report for Coeur's properties on file at www.sedar.com.
