Tyler Technologies Unit Awarded New Reassessment Contracts in Indiana; New Contracts Bring Total Indiana Awards to $8.6 Million

DALLAS, Oct. 2 -- Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL), announced today that its Cole Layer Trumble (CLT) division has entered into new reassessment contracts with Elkhart and Vigo counties in Indiana. The total value of the new contracts is more than $2.8 million and brings CLT's total contract awards in Indiana for this reassessment cycle to nine projects valued at over $8.6 million. Under these agreements, CLT will provide technical services for the 2002 reassessments for the two counties. The terms of the agreements extend through August 2002.

Vigo County is located in western Indiana and includes the city of Terre Haute. Elkhart County includes the city of Elkhart and is located in northeastern Indiana. The two counties combined have a population of nearly 300,000.

"Our mass appraisal business continues to show strength," commented Bruce F. Nagel, President of Tyler's CLT division. "The current Indiana reassessment cycle is providing well over twice the revenue of the previous cycle five years ago. These recent contract signings are an indication of the quality of the services and personnel we offer to the Indiana property tax assessment community."

Tyler's CLT division is the nation's largest provider of mass appraisal and property tax software and services. Since its founding in 1938, CLT has provided mass appraisal services and property tax administration software to over 1,200 assessing jurisdictions in the United States and Canada.

"Elkhart and Vigo counties have both been CLT clients in the past," noted William A. "Tony" Henderson, Assistant Vice President of Marketing for Tyler's CLT division. "In fact, many of the CLT personnel who were involved with these clients during the previous cycle are again servicing these jurisdictions. This kind of long-term commitment to and from our clients is very beneficial for all parties and allows us to effectively use our experienced staff."
