TYLER TECHNOLOGIES ANNOUNCES ACQUISITION OF EDEN SYSTEMS, INC.

Purchase Expands Tyler's Presence in Local Government Financial Systems Market

Dallas, December 3, 2003 -- Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) announced today that it has acquired privately held Eden Systems, Inc. of Renton, Washington. Eden was founded in 1981 and provides financial, personnel and citizen services applications software for local governments. Eden has more than 160 installations nationwide, with a particularly strong presence among cities, counties and other local government agencies in the western United States.

Eden Systems is profitable and is expected to have revenues of approximately $12 million in calendar 2003. The acquisition is expected to be accretive to Tyler's earnings in 2004.

"Eden Systems is a great fit with Tyler Technologies," commented John M. Yeaman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Tyler. "Eden has a solid reputation in the market and, with expansion across the country and success in larger opportunities, has experienced strong growth over the past several years. We believe their products and expertise will complement our model and give us additional opportunities to provide our customers with solutions tailored specifically for local governments. In particular, the addition of Eden considerably increases our presence in the western part of the country. We look forward to welcoming Eden's clients and employees to Tyler Technologies."

Eden Systems' products offer Windows-based technology in a robust, scaleable, and easy-to-use system. InForum Gold, the company's premier suite of integrated products, offers applications software for financials, personnel, and citizen services. InForum Gold Financials is comprised of essential modules that support fund and encumbrance accounting, including General Ledger, Budgeting, Accounts Payable, Accounts Receivable, Purchasing, Fixed Assets, Project Accounting, and Inventory. InForum Gold Personnel includes integrated Payroll and Human Resources modules. InForum Gold Citizen Services has modules for Utility Billing, Licensing, Permits & Inspections, and Parcel Manager and features embedded Geographical Information System and mapping functions. In addition to software, Eden provides related professional services and support. For more information on Eden Systems, please visit www.edeninc.com.
