TYLER TECHNOLOGIES ACQUIRES EDP ENTERPRISES, INC. TO EXPAND PRESENCE IN EDUCATION MARKET

Dallas, September 11, 2007 -- Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) today announced that it has acquired all the common stock of EDP Enterprises, Inc. (EDP) of Longview, Texas. EDP develops and sells financial and student information management systems for public school districts in Texas.

EDP was founded in 1981 and has installed systems in more than 80 public school districts throughout the state of Texas. EDP had annual revenues of more than $4.5 million in its last fiscal year and has approximately 50 employees.

The addition of EDP further expands Tyler's nationwide presence in the K-12 school market. Tyler has complete education management solutions to address the financial and student information management system needs of any size school or district.

"The acquisition of EDP complements our strong financial management solutions and adds to our developing presence in the education management market. This transaction gives Tyler an established regional customer base in the K-12 schools market that we will continue to expand," commented John S. Marr, Jr., Tyler's president and chief executive officer. "EDP brings long-standing customer relationships, skilled professional staff and quality products. This transaction, together with our other recent acquisitions, demonstrates our commitment to the education software market."

Based in Dallas, Tyler Technologies is a leading provider of end-to-end information management solutions and services for local governments. Tyler partners with clients to make local government more accessible to the public, more responsive to needs of citizens, and more efficient. Tyler's client base includes more than 6,000 local government offices throughout all 50 states, Canada, Puerto Rico and the United Kingdom. In April 2007, Tyler was named one of "America's 100 Most Trustworthy Companies" by Audit Integrity, an independent research firm.
