"Tyler's reputation with governments throughout the state of Texas and across the nation is impressive, and we are excited about the opportunity to put their expertise to work to improve the operations of the courts in Nueces County."

Nueces County is located on Texas' Gulf Coast and has a population of more than 317,000, making it the 14th largest county in the state. The county seat and largest city is Corpus Christi. A center for tourism, Nueces County is home to Padre Island National Seashore and Mustang Island State Park, as well as the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi.
