

Tyler Technologies Signs $1.2 Million Contract with Columbia County for Tyler's ERP SaaS Solution

N.Y. County Signs Agreement for Tyler's Munis® ERP Solution

Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) has signed a seven-year software as a service (SaaS) contract with Columbia County, N.Y., for Tyler's Munis® enterprise resource planning (ERP) solution. The agreement, valued at approximately $1.2 million, includes hosting services, related professional services, maintenance and support.

"Columbia County needed a system that would position it to better meet and adapt to future challenges, which is why we selected Tyler's Munis solution," said Randy Wheeler, Columbia County's director of information systems. "Munis' integrated applications will streamline and automate our workflow processes, centralize our information and data and empower our workforce to do more with less time, money and effort. We are also pleased to work with a solution that will allow us to effectively leverage reporting features and link data to positive results."

Columbia County has invested in a wide range of Munis applications, including financial management, human capital management and content management. Munis will be hosted and administered at Tyler's data center in Falmouth, Maine.

"Tyler's unique local government insight coupled with our technology and Munis' underlying functionality will facilitate information-driven decisions and streamline processes, helping Columbia County achieve its business goals and operate with greater efficiency," said Richard E. Peterson Jr., president of Tyler's ERP & School Division. "We look forward to working with the county to empower staff and citizens and help Columbia County significantly improve its daily operations."
