The award honors innovations in organizational efficiency,

Award submissions were evaluated by a panel of Tyler leadership and advisory board judges – professional colleagues with extensive public sector and Tyler product experience. Entries were judged on business value, innovation and relevance to other public sector organizations. Additional criteria included that award applicants:

- Created a unique change process utilizing a Tyler application that can educate other organizations
- Realized significant savings after implementing a Tyler product
- Increased staffing productivity by implementing a Tyler product
- Empowered employees, citizens or vendors through their site's self-service modules

All three Tyler Excellence Award winners were honored Wednesday, April 27, at Tyler's 2011 Connect User Conference in Nashville, TN, where they were presented with the award and given the opportunity to share their best practices and lessons learned with their public-sector peers. Winners also received an expense paid trip for one to the conference.

"Tyler's Public Sector Excellence Awards program is our chance to publicly recognize clients like the Kaufman County Clerk Department, Alliance Water Resources and City of Irmo Police Department, who have demonstrated leadership, innovation and excellence in developing, deploying and maintaining Tyler solutions in new ways," said Brett Cate, president of Tyler's Local Government Division. "We're proud to offer a forum like the Connect User Conference where our clients can share ideas and lessons learned with their peers. Congratulations to all the winners of Tyler's Excellence Awards."
