

Ohio's Ashtabula County Selects CLT Appraisal Services From Tyler Technologies

County expands existing four-year relationship with Tyler's Appraisal & Tax unit

DALLAS – Oct. 18, 2012 – Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) has signed an agreement with Ashtabula County, Ohio, for Tyler's CLT Appraisal Services for a county-wide revaluation. The contract includes establishing property values for all real property and land parcels, as well as parcel valuation of new construction. The valuation is expected to conclude in 2014.

Ashtabula County, the northernmost county in Ohio with more than 78,000 parcels of real property, is a current Tyler customer having licensed Tyler's iasWorld® property tax software applications in 2008, including computer-assisted mass appraisal (CAMA) and tax billing and collection.

"Tyler presented a very unique approach in their proposal which, coupled with price and qualifications, was why we selected Tyler's CLT Appraisal Services for Ashtabula's 2014 revaluation," said Ashtabula County Auditor Roger A. Corlett. "Additionally, our current use of Tyler's iasWorld property tax software gives us first-hand knowledge of the professionalism and reliability that Tyler delivers."

"With nearly 75 years of experience, Tyler is known for reliably completing projects on time and on budget, and we have a long history of serving Ohio counties with complete solutions for appraisal and tax projects," said David J. Johnson, president of Tyler's CLT Appraisal Services. "Tyler's CLT Appraisal Services has completed more than 3,000 appraisal projects in 46 states and we're pleased to expand our partnership with Ashtabula County."
