

Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission to Use Tyler Technologies' Planning, Permitting and Licensing Solution

WSSC selects Tyler's EnerGov® permitting and land management suite

DALLAS – Sept. 3, 2013 – Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) has signed a contract with the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission (WSSC) to implement Tyler's EnerGov® planning, permitting and licensing solution. The agreement includes related professional services, training and support.

The commission selected multiple EnerGov modules to support permit management, plan review management, inspections and enforcements, licensing and registration, and workflow management. Additionally, EnerGov will integrate with several of WSSC's existing systems and provide mobile field access through its iG Workforce™ platform.

“EnerGov's Web-based automation platform will allow WSSC to provide enhanced online constituent access to services and help the commission meet its goal of delivering a flexible permit management system to end-users,” said Brett Cate, president of Tyler's Local Government Division. “Tyler is committed to designing, developing and deploying innovative GIS-centric software. We look forward to helping WSSC achieve its business objectives.”

WSSC is the largest water and wastewater utility in the Maryland and Washington, D.C. metropolitan area serving approximately 1.8 million residents with 460,000 customer accounts in Prince George's and Montgomery counties.
