

Tyler Technologies Joins Cloud Security Alliance

PLANO, Texas – July 2, 2015 – Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) today announced that it has joined the Cloud Security Alliance (CSA), a not-for-profit organization with a mission to promote the use of best practices for providing security assurance within cloud computing.

Tyler has also joined the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP). The IAPP is a not-for-profit association that helps define, support and improve the privacy profession with more than 20,000 members in 83 countries.

“Tyler’s membership in these organizations reinforces its commitment to staff and clients to provide the highest level of data security,” said Matthew Bieri, vice president and chief information officer of Tyler Technologies. “Tyler’s membership in the Cloud Security Alliance demonstrates our support for developing good security practices, not only in hosting operations but in all forms of computing. Membership in the CSA also gives our staff early access to research and the opportunity to share our expertise to help shape the future of cloud computing.”

More than 1,500 public sector organizations use Tyler software-as-a-service solutions, a number that has consistently increased over the more than 14 years since Tyler began offering cloud-based solutions. Nearly 1.7 million users access Tyler’s e-service solutions to make payments, file legal documents, submit permits and interact with public sector organizations.
