

Tyler Technologies Named a Top 100 Place to Work by The Dallas Morning News

Newspaper compiles annual ranking by surveying employees of North Texas companies

PLANO, Texas – Dec. 2, 2015 – Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) has been named to The Dallas Morning News Top 100 Places to Work listing for 2015, marking the fourth time Tyler has appeared on the list. Tyler’s rank also secures its placement as the top technology company listed in the large companies category.

The Dallas Morning News bases its Top 100 Places to Work on an independent confidential survey of employees by Workplace Dynamics. Tyler ranked 11th overall in the 2015 survey, which analyzes several factors, including direction, execution, career advancement, working conditions and culture, manager/employee relationships and work/life balance, as well as compensation and benefits.

To promote opportunities for personal and professional growth, Tyler offers comprehensive benefits, competitive compensation packages and career coaching. Tyler’s commitment to hiring software developers and other positions from candidates in North Texas includes a strong partnership with the University of Texas at Dallas’ computer science department, which helps to add to Tyler’s pipeline of talent.

Tyler recently consolidated its Courts & Justice Division and corporate headquarters into a single campus in Plano that includes amenities of a productive and enjoyable workplace. These amenities include a fitness center, café and 26-acres of park-like settings with lush landscape and waterways.

“The Top Place to Work ranking reflects the sense of purpose our employees have at Tyler. Our employees recognize the vital role they play in using technology to bring innovation and improvement to local governments, which enables them to have a more positive impact on their communities,” said Bruce Graham, president of Tyler’s Courts & Justice Division, which employs about 600 people in North Texas. “We closely partner with our government clients to help them drive innovation and progress, so it’s important that we continually create a collaborative environment in our offices and among employees because it’s our people that make the difference and set Tyler apart.”
