

Medford, Oregon, Chooses Incode Court Solution from Tyler Technologies

Incode court case management software to help court save time and money by improving processes

PLANO, Texas – May 24, 2016 – Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) has signed an agreement with the city of Medford, Oregon, for Tyler’s Incode® municipal court management solution. The agreement includes implementation, project management, data conversion and related professional services.

The city sought a solution that could increase the effectiveness of its online presence and improve business operations to better serve residents.

Medford Municipal Court ultimately selected Tyler’s Incode court system, valuing Tyler’s long and successful track record of developing and implementing software specifically for the public sector. City leaders also valued Incode’s ability to help court staff easily track and manage day-to-day tasks, eliminate duplicate data entry and increase the collection of outstanding warrants.

Medford invested in Incode court case management and document management applications to create efficiencies across court functions, including case management, jury management, and warrant and citation import scheduling. Incode will also help the court save time and money by reducing foot traffic and lobby wait times, as well as decreasing reliance on paper to improve staff communications.

The city will also benefit from Tyler’s evergreen perpetual licensing approach that provides regular and significant, yet manageable, software enhancements without an additional relicensing or service fee, ensuring the city has continued access to evolving technology.

Located in the Rogue Valley of southwestern Oregon, Medford has approximately 80,000 residents.
