

Tyler Technologies Named to Forbes' 'Best Employers for Women' List

Tyler committed to championing and encouraging women in technology

PLANO, Texas (August 9, 2018) – Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) was recently named by Forbes on its 'Best Employers for Women' list for 2018. This inaugural list recognized 300 companies for their support for and representation of women in their U.S. operations.

"We're honored to be recognized by Forbes as a top employer for women, as we are continually striving to create a positive environment to support women in technology and celebrate diversity among our more than 4,300 employees," said Lynn Moore, chief executive officer and president for Tyler. "This recognition fuels us to continue to champion women at Tyler through initiatives like our Women's Leadership Network and highlight them through features like our Women in Technology intranet series."

The companies included on the list were chosen based on an independent online survey conducted by Statista from a sample of 40,000 U.S. employees working for companies employing at least 1,000 people in the companies' U.S. operations. The survey focused on topics relevant for women and included questions on family support, flexibility, representation, and pay equity. The survey also considered diversity among top executives and board directors at each company.

The 300 companies receiving the highest total scores were awarded as the 'Best Employers for Women' in 2018, which represents a variety of industries such as technology, transportation, health care, education, and retail.
