

Tyler Technologies Named a Top Workplace in Colorado

Tyler's Lakewood office has more than 150 local employees

LAKEWOOD, Colo. - Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) has been named to The Denver Post "Top Workplaces 2021" list, marking the first time its Lakewood, Colorado, office is recognized as a top workplace in the area. Tyler is included on the mid-sized companies list alongside 54 other companies.

"We are thrilled to be recognized on The Denver Post Top Workplaces list for the first time," said Kelley Shimansky, chief human resources officer for Tyler. "Our Lakewood team is proud to live and work in the greater Denver area supporting our public sector clients. They join many Tyler offices who have been recognized for maintaining a strong and unique local team culture and demonstrating accountability, integrity, focus, inclusion, community and growth each day as we empower the public sector to create smarter, safer, and stronger communities."

This marks the 10th year that The Denver Post has partnered with Energage to rank the top workplaces in Colorado. The program's foundation is a scientific survey of employees who rate their workplace culture, which includes questions on workplace coaching, engagement, leadership, and performance. More than 2,400 employers in the region were invited to have their employees take the survey this year.

Tyler is recognized alongside other mid-sized companies from various industries, including real estate, finance, nonprofit, insurance, and technology. Overall, 150 employers earned recognition as Top Workplaces this year.
