

Tyler Technologies Extends Contract for Digital Government and Payment Solutions in the State of Oregon

Agreement builds upon 10-year relationship between Oregon and new Tyler subsidiary

PLANO, Texas - Tyler Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: TYL) today announced that the state of Oregon has signed a multi-year contract extension for Tyler's digital government and payments services.

The four-year agreement extends the existing 10-year relationship between Oregon's E-Government Program and Tyler's new subsidiary, NIC.

"NIC Oregon has been a vital partner with the state of Oregon as we work to make our websites and programs accessible and usable for the people of our great state," said Thomas Fuller, chair of the Oregon Electronic Portal Advisory Board and Communications Manager for the Oregon Department of Transportation. "We are very pleased that this strategic relationship will continue."

Under the contract, NIC will continue to help the state:

- Discover users' needs and preferences of Oregon.gov and the state's digital government services;
- Support the continued updating of state websites;
- Support increased accessibility, equitability, and readability of state websites and applications;
- Work with agencies to create easy-to-understand applications and payment processes;
- Work with agencies to continue moving forms and services online; and
- Increase service opportunities, including new lines of services.

"For the last 10 years, NIC has worked with Oregon's state agencies, boards, and commissions to develop innovative digital solutions, including payments, to support hundreds of government services," said Elizabeth Proudfit, president of the NIC Division of Tyler. "We are grateful to the state for continuing that relationship and our work together, building upon a solid foundation to take government services to the next level in Oregon."

In 2020 alone, NIC provided 295 digital government services for the state of Oregon, securely processing $1.43 billion from more than 4 million online transactions. Additionally, NIC securely hosts the state's official website, Oregon.gov, which received nearly 233 million page views across over 100 state agencies last year.
