Intrusion, Inc. Subsidiary VigilAigent Secures Three-Year Renewal and OmniViz Upgrade with Leading MSP Partner

2026-07-08

Contract renewal and upgrade underscores strong partner confidence, expanded platform adoption, and new growth opportunities

PLANO, TX / ACCESS Newswire / July 8, 2026 / Intrusion Inc. (NASDAQ:INTZ) ("Intrusion" or the "Company"), a leader in cyberattack prevention solutions, today announced that the Company's subsidiary, VigilAigent, secured a three-year renewal and platform upgrade with one of its top MSP partners.

The agreement represents more than $300,000 in total contract value (TCV) over multiple years, including approximately $108,000 in net-new TCV from expanded OmniViz services. The agreement advances VigilAigent's unified-platform strategy, delivering expanded capabilities that support integrated security solutions and create scalable, long-term value across VigilAigent's ecosystem. As part of the agreement, the partner will fully embrace VigilAigent's "Security Fabric for Enterprise" vision and architecture. The partner is making a full transition to VigilAigent's OmniViz platform for their entire customer base. The expanded commitment follows the partner's recent off-cycle renewal of its entire commitment for an additional 18 months, further demonstrating confidence in VigilAigent's technology, service model, and long-term roadmap.

Backed by a recent private equity investment, the MSP partner is accelerating its expansion into the enterprise market. By standardizing on OmniViz, the partner gains a unified security operations platform that enhances visibility, accelerates threat validation, and enables more scalable managed security services for increasingly complex enterprise environments.

The expanded agreement reinforces VigilAigent's partner-led growth strategy and reflects increasing demand among MSPs for advanced cybersecurity platforms that can support both mid-market and enterprise customers.

"We are very pleased with the momentum the VigilAigent team has generated since joining Intrusion, as demonstrated by the signing of this three-year renewal and OmniViz platform upgrade," said Tony Scott, CEO of Intrusion, Inc. "This agreement reinforces the strategic rationale behind our acquisition of VigilAigent by improving the value of our customer portfolio with multi-year agreements that help strengthen the quality and visibility of our revenue. Furthermore, this agreement also validates our vision of integrating VigilAigent's technology with Intrusion's to create a unified platform that expands our reach into larger enterprise opportunities while providing a foundation for both organic growth and future strategic customer acquisitions."

"This renewal is exactly what VigilAigent was built for: giving MSPs the security operations, intelligence, automation, and enterprise-grade support they need to confidently serve larger, more complex customers," said Mark Porter, President of VigilAigent. "This partner is a sophisticated MSP with ambitious growth plans, and their decision to expand their commitment and move fully to OmniViz validates the value of our partner-first model. "
