

HUMAN RIGHTS POLICY

MasterBrand, Inc.'s purpose is to bring our customers' experience of their kitchen being the center of home, where family and friends gather to share a meal, do work, or enjoy each other's company to life. Fulfilling that mission rests on our commitment to our associates and communities and on our commitment to conduct business ethically and responsibly. Respect for human rights is a cornerstone of those commitments.

Consistent with the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, MasterBrand' Human Rights Policy is guided by the International Bill of Human Rights (including the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights), the International Labour Organization's Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work and the principles concerning fundamental rights set out in the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises.

Consistent with the MasterBrand Code of Business Conduct & Ethics, we endeavor to promote an atmosphere of trust and respect and encourage a work environment where employees are treated fairly and given opportunities to contribute to our success. This means:

- We provide equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants. These requirements apply not only to our active employee base, but also to our recruiting, hiring, and employee separation practices.
- Any unwelcome conduct that creates an offensive or intimidating environment is prohibited. MasterBrand is committed to creating an environment that does not tolerate harassment or discrimination, and to valuing our employees, including potential employees/recruits, based on their professional qualifications, skills, performance, and experience.
- We provide robust training to our employees, both during onboarding and on an ongoing basis, that emphasizes our commitment to diversity and inclusion, non-discrimination and prohibited harassment.

Women are integral to our business model and growth. We are committed to operating our business in a manner that encourages and fosters women's participation on an equal basis. Our approach starts with respect for the rights of women and extends to their promotion, including helping women to develop skills and access opportunities on an equal basis.

We regularly audit our suppliers based on several factors, including human rights practices. We partner with our suppliers to drive continuous improvement and track corrective actions to closure. Suppliers who fall below our standards and do not have the capacity or desire to make necessary adjustments are removed.
