In addition, see Exhibit 1 to this earnings supplement for an explanation and reconciliation of (i) GAAP operating income to non-GAAP total segment adjusted operating income and adjusted operating income, (ii) GAAP net income to non-GAAP adjusted net income, (iii) GAAP net income per diluted share to non-GAAP adjusted net income per diluted share, and (iv) GAAP operating cash flow to non-GAAP adjusted free cash flow.

Note:

The Company rounds amounts to millions within tables and text (unless otherwise specified), and calculates all percentages and per-share data from underlying whole-dollar amounts. As a result, certain amounts may not foot, crossfoot, or recalculate based on reported numbers due to rounding. Within the tables following, we present the impact of FX and PPG changes on various financial metrics. To determine the estimated earnings impact of FX on revenue and expenses from entities whose functional currency is not denominated in U.S. dollars, as well as revenue and variable expenses from purchase volume transacted in non-U.S. denominated currencies, amounts were translated using the weighted average exchange rates for the same period in the prior year, net of tax, exclusive of revenue and expenses derived from acquisitions for one year following the acquisition dates. To determine the estimated earnings impact of PPG, revenue and certain variable expenses impacted by changes in fuel prices were adjusted based on the average retail price of fuel for the same period in the prior year for the portion of our business that earns revenue based on a percentage of fuel spend, net of applicable taxes, exclusive of revenue and expenses derived from acquisitions for one year following the acquisition dates. For the portions of our business that earn revenue based on margin spreads, revenue was adjusted to the comparable margin from the prior year, net of non-controlling interests and applicable taxes.

Financial Results

- Total revenue for Q3 2025 increased $26.3 million, or 3.9%, compared to Q3 2024, including a net $6.0 million unfavorable impact from fuel prices and spreads and a $2.7 million favorable impact from foreign exchange rates. Q3 GAAP net income was $2.30 per diluted share, a decrease of 8.7% compared to the prior year. Q3 adjusted net income was $4.59 per diluted share, an increase of 5.5% compared to the prior year.
- Q3 2025 results were largely in line with quarterly guidance, with the exception of higher-than-anticipated fuel prices and additional expense savings recognized during the quarter. Fuel prices trended slightly higher than the guidance assumption, which increased revenue above the top end of the guidance range. In addition to the expense savings, the higher fuel prices pushed adjusted EPS above the guidance range. When adjusted for fuel prices and FX noted in the table below, revenue growth was up 4.4% during the quarter compared with the prior year, while adjusted earnings per share grew 7.2% on the same basis.

⁽²⁾ Diluted earnings per share includes the impact of convertible securities under the "if-converted" method if the effect of such securities would be dilutive and includes the assumed exercise of dilutive options, the assumed issuance of unvested RSUs, performance-based awards for which the performance condition has been met as of the date of determination, and contingently issuable shares that would be issuable if the end of the reporting period was the end of the contingency period, using the treasury stock method unless the effect is anti-dilutive. On August 11, 2023, the Company repurchased all of the outstanding Convertible Notes.

Mobility Segment

Within our Mobility segment, operating through North American, Over-the-Road, and International business units, WEX is a leader in fleet payment solutions, transaction processing, and information management. We serve diverse fleet needs globally, from Over-the-Road to locally operated fleets. Our proprietary closed-loop payments network in the U.S. currently covers more than 90% of fuel and 80% of EV charging locations. Our differentiated network offers enhanced data capture, custom controls, and tailored economics between fleets and merchants, creating customer value. Beyond fuel cards, our portfolio includes SaaS solutions for field service management, telematics, reporting and analytics, cash flow management, and mixed-energy fleets. Powered by payment intelligence and workflow optimization, these solutions deliver transformative value to operators, fleet managers, and business managers. Our solutions simplify our customers' businesses by optimizing costs, streamlining operations, and improving driver and fleet manager satisfaction while advancing sustainability and driving business growth.

Revenue in this segment is derived primarily from payment processing, based on transaction volume or fixed fees, as well as account servicing fees, finance charges, and other ancillary services.

- Mobility segment revenue for the quarter increased 1.0% compared to the same period a year ago, including a 1.4% drag due to lower fuel prices and foreign exchange rates. The Q3 average domestic fuel price of $3.38 was 15 cents higher than our prior guidance, increasing revenue by approximately $7.5 million relative to guidance. Compared to the same period in 2024, the $0.07 decline in fuel prices reduced revenue by approximately $6.0 million, which also includes a small impact from European fuel price spreads.
- Payment processing transactions were down 4.5% in Q3 2025 compared to Q3 2024. Local fleets in North America were down 4.8%, while Over-the-Road truck fleets were up 0.3%.
- Same-store sales⁵, which is a measure of the gallons purchased, for local fleets in the U.S. declined in line with Q2 results, while Over-the-Road customers saw a modest softening compared with Q2. The Company believes that this metric is a reflection of the economic demand environment and the long-term trend of better vehicle fuel efficiency.
- The net interchange rate in the Mobility segment was 1.33%, an increase of 2 basis points sequentially. The sequential increase in the net interchange rate is due primarily to merchant pricing and mix.
- The net late fee rate increased by 9 basis points year-over-year, while finance fee revenue increased 18.1% to $82.9 million. The increase in the net late fee rate was due primarily to an unfavorable impact from an operational issue in the prior year. In addition, there were smaller positive impacts from past pricing actions, which were partially offset by a 1.3% decline in the number of late fee instances charged as well as the decline in fuel prices.
- Credit losses increased by $7.3 million versus the same period last year, coming in at 12.1 basis points of spend volume, which was better than our guidance range of 13-18 basis points and compares to 5.8 basis points for the same quarter last year. We remain very pleased with our efforts to minimize credit losses to date and will continue to watch this closely.
- GAAP operating income margin for the segment was 30.9%, compared to 38.2% in the prior-year period. The Mobility segment's adjusted operating income margin for the quarter was 40.7%, which is down 6.1% compared to last year. This decrease was primarily driven by lower fuel prices and the impact of expense increases for sales and marketing and product development.

Revenue in this segment is derived from per-participant fees, HSA deposit interest, and debit card interchange. Our business experiences annual seasonality, with Q1 peaking for new account sign-ups and transactions. WEX Inc. also serves as an IRS-designated non-bank custodian, while WEX Bank provides HSA depository services.

- Benefits revenue in Q3 2025 was $198.1 million, an increase of 9.2% over the prior year, driven by continued strong revenue growth in our HSA accounts.
- Average SaaS accounts for Q3 increased 6.0% year-over-year to 21.5 million. HSA account growth specifically, including partner channel accounts, was 7% compared to market growth of 6% according to the Devenir Research 2025 Midyear HSA Market Statistics & Trends report.
- Benefits purchase volume increased by 7.6% compared to the prior-year quarter. While our interchange revenues in this segment are a relatively small piece of the total, they generate a steady revenue stream and a strong flow-through to operating income.
- Account servicing revenue in Q3 was $113.3 million, an increase of 2.9% versus last year. When excluding income earned on HSA deposits included in this line item, growth was 5.7%. More custodial cash balances were moved onto WEX's balance sheet from third party banks, which shifted the income recognized on this line item to other revenue.
- Average custodial cash assets totaled $4.8 billion, an increase of 11.4% compared to the prior year, and generated $61.7 million in revenue—up from $53.7 million last year—earned at WEX Bank and third-party banks. The interest yield earned on these investments increased 15 basis points year-over-year to 5.13%.
- GAAP operating income margin for the segment was 28.7%, compared to 24.9% in the same prior-year period. The Benefits segment adjusted operating income margin was 43.8% compared to 43.2% in 2024. The increased margin versus last year is driven by the high flow-through of custodial investment income.

⁽⁸⁾ Segment adjusted operating income margin is derived by dividing segment adjusted operating income by the revenue of the corresponding segment.

⁽¹¹⁾ We calculate HSA yield by dividing Custodial Investment Revenue - Total by Average HSA Custodial Cash Assets.

The following chart shows the maturity profile of the investment securities and deposits as of September 30, 2025. The blended portfolio yield shown is the return earned on the balances maturing each year as of September 30, 2025.

Despite benchmark interest rates that have generally trended downward recently, our portfolio management efforts have maintained relatively consistent custodial investment returns.

Corporate Payments Segment

WEX's Corporate Payments segment delivers global B2B payment solutions, powered by payment intelligence and workflow optimization, that enhance security, simplify processes, and drive revenue. Our Direct to Corporate solution automates Accounts Payable (AP) by integrating with Enterprise Resource Planning systems and accounting workflows to maximize virtual payment usage. Our customizable Embedded Payments solution seamlessly integrates virtual payment capabilities into existing workflows, whether payments are core to the business, part of critical operations, or an added customer offering. This versatile solution empowers a broad range of industries, including online travel. We also offer white-label partnerships with financial institutions. Leveraging scale, network incentives, global expertise, and our supplier enablement team, we seek to optimize revenue for our customers.

Revenue in this segment is primarily derived from net interchange, with additional contributions from licensing fees.

- Total segment revenue for the quarter increased 4.7% to $132.8 million. The revenue increase was driven primarily by increased yields on purchase volume and a 10.8% increase in the total volume. Foreign exchange rates were also favorable, increasing revenue by $1.9 million compared to the prior year.
- Purchase volumes issued by WEX decreased 0.9% compared to the same period last year, a notable sequential improvement. We have largely lapped the headwind we've discussed in recent quarters from a large OTA customer transitioning to a new operating model.
- The net interchange rate was flat sequentially. The net interchange rate for travel customers was flat while the non-travel customer rate was up 2 basis points compared with Q2 2025. The increase in the non-travel rate was due primarily to customer mix.
- Direct Accounts Payable purchase volume for the quarter increased by more than 20%. While the Direct component of the segment is currently a small portion of volume, it is currently rapidly growing and its higher revenue yield leads to a relatively outsized revenue impact to the segment. Historically, Direct has provided lower quarterly volume volatility due to our direct interaction with the end customer. This book of business currently generates approximately 20% of annual segment revenue.
- Because of the strong potential growth opportunity in our Direct Accounts Payable business, we intend to continue to invest in new product capabilities and additional sales and marketing resources.
- GAAP operating income margin for the segment was 39.1% compared to 44.2% in the comparable prior-year quarter. The adjusted operating income margin in the segment was 48.0%, which is down from 56.4% in the same quarter last year due primarily to the mix of revenue and increased sales and marketing expenses.

We currently remain in a healthy financial position and ended the quarter with $1,082 million of available liquidity that includes our available corporate cash and capacity to borrow under our revolving Credit Agreement. Our leverage ratio, as defined in the Credit Agreement, as of September 30, 2025, stands at 3.25 times, and remains within our long-term target of 2.5 times to 3.5 times. The Company expects to use cash flow generated through the remainder of the year to reduce leverage.

The following table summarizes the Company's long-term debt maturities¹⁷, excluding our revolver and nominal scheduled principal payments on our term loans:

Term Debt Maturities By Year ($M)

We have maintained ample access to debt markets and strategically review our debt composition and maturity schedule to align with our long-term objectives. We currently have a runway of more than two years before our next maturity, which we believe provides us with an appropriate cushion to remain opportunistic in the market.

⁽¹⁴⁾ Available liquidity includes corporate cash, plus the portion of our revolving credit facility undrawn as of the specific balance sheet date.

⁽¹⁵⁾ As defined in the Credit Agreement.

⁽¹⁶⁾ Our available-for-sale debt securities are measured and reported at fair value on the face of the balance sheet. We have additionally included the cost basis of these investments to provide greater clarity on the nature and extent of our investing activities.

⁽¹⁷⁾ The maturity date of the Term A debt is the earlier of (i) May 10, 2029 and (ii) the date that is 91 days prior to the maturity of the Term B-2 Loans. We have presented Term A within 2029 in the table above with the expectation that the Term B-2 debt will be refinanced prior to maturity.

WEX generates a significant amount of cash each year although absolute levels can vary based upon macroeconomic factors, operational investments, and overall business performance. We utilize an adjusted free cash flow metric, which is prepared on a non-GAAP basis, to describe the cash flow we consider available for investment. The purpose of the adjusted calculation is to remove impacts of funding accounts receivable in the normal course of business and other cash activity at WEX Bank, which is excluded from and does not impact the amount of cash available at the parent company level. Using our definition, Q3 2025 non-GAAP adjusted free cash flow was $166 million. Over the trailing twelve months ended September 30, 2025, we generated $546 million, converting a substantial portion of our ANI into adjusted free cash flow. We are able to leverage this strong adjusted free cash flow generation to deliver on our disciplined capital allocation strategy, including ongoing investments in our business.

WEX strategically allocates capital through a disciplined and rigorous analytical process, prioritizing investments that deliver strong long-term returns. Our primary uses of cash include growth-focused initiatives, such as investments in technology and customer experience, strategic M&A, and returning capital to shareholders via share repurchases. Our capex investments are central to strengthening our competitive edge and delivering greater value to our customers.

On February 26, 2025, the Company commenced a modified “Dutch auction” tender offer to repurchase up to $750.0 million worth of its common stock (the “Tender Offer”). On March 31, 2025, the Company completed the Tender Offer and accepted for purchase a total of approximately 4.9 million shares of its common stock at a purchase price of $154 per share. The Company paid $750.0 million in cash to complete the Tender Offer, excluding related costs and fees. The Company incurred approximately $4.2 million of costs and fees related to the Tender Offer, which are recorded along with the cost of the shares repurchased as treasury stock.

⁽¹⁹⁾ During the third quarter of 2024, we entered into an ASR agreement with JPMorgan to repurchase an aggregate of $300.0 million of the Company’s outstanding common stock. Under the ASR, the Company made a payment of $300.0 million to JPMorgan for which we received an initial delivery of approximately 1.3 million shares of our common stock. For purposes of this table, we have included the full payment amount and the initial delivery of shares in the quarter ended September 30, 2024. During the fourth quarter of 2024, the ASR was settled, resulting in the receipt of an additional 0.2 million shares of WEX common stock, which is included in the quarter ended December 31, 2024.

⁽²⁰⁾ This line is presented on a cash basis and includes all consideration transferred in the related quarter, including deferred and contingent payments when they are paid as opposed to when the underlying transaction occurred.

Financial Guidance

The following table presents our expectations for the fourth quarter and full year 2025:

Fourth quarter and full year 2025 guidance is based on a number of assumptions, including:

Key Guidance Assumptions	Q4'25	Full Year 2025
	Current Guidance	Current Guidance	Change from Prior Guide at Midpoint	% Change
Average U.S. Retail Fuel Prices per Gallon	$3.09	$3.27	$0.06	2%

Weighted Average Diluted Shares Outstanding, in millions	34.9	35.9	0	—%

2025 guidance also includes the following assumptions:

- No benefits from future M&A activity
- Interest rate decreases included in line with the market Fed Funds projections
- Exchange rates are as of the end of September 2025
- U.S. retail fuel prices are based on the NYMEX prices from the week of October 20, 2025
- Adjusted net income effective tax rate of 25.0% for 2025 (all periods)
- No further share repurchases in 2025

⁽²¹⁾ The Company's adjusted net income guidance, which is a non-GAAP measure, excludes unrealized gains and losses on financial instruments, net foreign currency gains and losses, changes in fair value of contingent consideration, acquisition-related intangible amortization, other acquisition and divestiture related items, stock-based compensation, other costs, impairment charges, debt restructuring and debt issuance cost amortization, adjustments attributable to our non-controlling interests, and certain tax related items. We are unable to reconcile our adjusted net income guidance to the comparable GAAP measure without unreasonable effort because of the difficulty in predicting the amounts to be adjusted, including, but not limited to, foreign currency exchange rates, unrealized gains and losses on financial instruments, and acquisition and divestiture related items, which may have a significant impact on our financial results.

The following tables include estimated revenue and ANI per share sensitivities to changes in PPG and interest rates as of the date of this supplement. As a reminder, the impacts of these macro factors can and will change based upon various factors, including the composition of our balance sheet. We target maintaining a materially neutral ANI per share impact from 100bps adjustments to interest rates and can adjust our profile through balance sheet strategies and hedging.

Note: The ANI per share amounts above have been updated to reflect the share count reduction due to the Tender Offer completed at the end of March.

We are unable to reconcile our adjusted net income guidance to the comparable GAAP measure without unreasonable effort because of the difficulty in predicting the amounts to be adjusted, including, but not limited to, foreign currency exchange rates, unrealized gains and losses on financial instruments, and acquisition and divestiture related items, which may have a significant impact on our financial results.

The Company's non-GAAP adjusted operating income excludes acquisition-related intangible amortization, other acquisition and divestiture related items, debt restructuring costs, stock-based compensation, other costs and certain non-recurring or non-cash operating charges that are not core to our operations, as applicable depending on the period presented. Total segment adjusted operating income incorporates these same adjustments and further excludes unallocated corporate expenses.

The Company's non-GAAP adjusted net income, which similarly excludes the impact of all items excluded in adjusted operating income, further excludes unrealized gains and losses on financial instruments, net foreign currency gains and losses, debt issuance cost amortization, tax related items, and certain other non-operating items, as applicable depending on the period presented.

Although adjusted net income, adjusted operating income, and total segment adjusted operating income are not calculated in accordance with GAAP, our management team believes these non-GAAP measures are integral to our reporting and planning processes and uses them to assess operating performance because they generally exclude financial results that are outside the normal course of our business operations or management's control. These measures are also used to allocate capital and resources among our operating segments.

For the periods presented herein, the following items have been excluded in determining one or more non-GAAP measures for the following reasons:

- Exclusion of the non-cash, mark-to-market adjustments on financial instruments, including interest rate swap agreements and investment securities, helps management identify and assess trends in the Company's underlying business that might otherwise be obscured due to quarterly non-cash earnings fluctuations associated with these financial instruments. Additionally, the non-cash, mark-to-market adjustments on financial instruments are difficult to forecast accurately, making comparisons across historical and future quarters difficult to evaluate;
- Net foreign currency gains and losses primarily result from the remeasurement to functional currency of cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable balances, certain intercompany transactions denominated in foreign currencies and any gain or loss on foreign currency hedges relating to these items. The exclusion of these items helps management compare changes in operating results between periods that might otherwise be obscured due to currency fluctuations;

- The change in fair value of contingent consideration, which is related to the acquisition of certain contractual rights to serve as custodian or sub-custodian to HSAs, is dependent upon changes in future interest rate assumptions and has no significant impact on the ongoing operations of the Company. Additionally, the non-cash, mark-to-market adjustments on financial instruments are difficult to forecast accurately, making comparisons across historical and future quarters difficult to evaluate;
- The Company considers certain acquisition-related costs, including certain financing costs, investment banking fees, warranty and indemnity insurance, certain integration-related expenses and amortization of acquired intangibles, as well as gains and losses from divestitures to be unpredictable, dependent on factors that may be outside of our control and unrelated to the continuing operations of the acquired or divested business or the Company. In addition, the size and complexity of an acquisition, which often drives the magnitude of acquisition-related costs, may not be indicative of such future costs. The Company believes that excluding acquisition-related costs and gains or losses on divestitures facilitates the comparison of our financial results to the Company's historical operating results and to other companies in our industry;
- Stock-based compensation is different from other forms of compensation as it is a non-cash expense. For example, a cash salary generally has a fixed and unvarying cash cost. In contrast, the expense associated with an equity-based award is generally unrelated to the amount of cash ultimately received by the employee, and the cost to the Company is based on a stock-based compensation valuation methodology and underlying assumptions that may vary over time;
- Other costs are not consistently occurring and do not reflect expected future operating expense, nor do they provide insight into the fundamentals of current or past operations of our business. This also includes non-recurring professional service costs, costs related to certain identified initiatives, including restructuring and technology initiatives, to further streamline the business, improve the Company's efficiency, create synergies and globalize the Company's operations, all with an objective to improve scale and efficiency and increase profitability going forward.
- Impairment charges represent non-cash asset write-offs, which do not reflect recurring costs that would be relevant to the Company's continuing operations. The Company believes that excluding these nonrecurring expenses facilitates the comparison of our financial results to the Company's historical operating results and to other companies in its industry;
- Debt restructuring and debt issuance cost amortization, which for the year ended December 31, 2023 includes the loss on extinguishment of Convertible Notes, are unrelated to the continuing operations of the Company. Debt restructuring costs are not consistently occurring and do not reflect expected future operating expense, nor do they provide insight into the fundamentals of current or past operations of our business. In addition, since debt issuance cost amortization is dependent upon the financing method, which can vary widely company to company, we believe that excluding these costs helps to facilitate comparison to historical results as well as to other companies within our industry;
- The adjustments attributable to non-controlling interests, including adjustments to the redemption value of a non-controlling interest, have no significant impact on the ongoing operations of the business;
- The tax related items are the difference between the Company's GAAP tax provision and a non-GAAP tax provision. Beginning in fiscal year 2024, the Company began utilizing a fixed annual projected long-term non-GAAP tax rate in order to provide better consistency across reporting periods. To determine this long-term projected tax rate, the Company performs a pro forma tax provision based upon the Company's projected adjusted net income before taxes. The fixed annual projected long-term non-GAAP tax rate could be subject to change in future periods for a variety of reasons, including the rapidly evolving global tax environment, significant changes in our geographic earnings mix including due to acquisition activity, or other changes to our strategy or business operations; and
- The Company does not allocate certain corporate expenses to our operating segments, as these items are centrally controlled and are not directly attributable to any reportable segment.

Adjusted net income, adjusted operating income, and total segment adjusted operating income may be useful to investors as a means of evaluating our performance. However, because total segment adjusted operating income and adjusted net income are non-GAAP measures, they should not be considered as a substitute for, or superior to, operating income or net income as determined in accordance with GAAP. Total segment adjusted operating income and adjusted net income as used by WEX may not be comparable to similarly titled measures employed by other companies.

Reconciliation of GAAP Operating Cash Flow to Adjusted Free Cash Flow

The Company's non-GAAP adjusted free cash flow is calculated as cash flows from operating activities, adjusted for net purchases of current investment securities, capital expenditures, net funding activity including the change in net deposits, net advances from the FHLB, and changes in borrowings under the BTFP and borrowed federal funds, and certain other adjustments. Although non-GAAP adjusted free cash flow is not calculated in accordance with GAAP, WEX believes that adjusted free cash flow is a useful measure for investors to further evaluate our results of operations because (i) adjusted free cash flow indicates the level of cash generated by the operations of the business, which excludes consideration paid on acquisitions, after appropriate reinvestment for recurring investments in property, equipment, and capitalized software that are required to operate the business; (ii) net Funding Activity includes fluctuations in deposits and other borrowings primarily used as part of our accounts receivable funding strategy; (iii) purchases of current investment securities are made as a result of deposits gathered operationally; and (iv) WEX Bank cash balances may be increased or decreased for reasons other than matching operating activity. However, because adjusted free cash flow is a non-GAAP measure, it should not be considered as a substitute for, or superior to, operating cash flow as determined in accordance with GAAP. In addition, adjusted free cash flow as used by WEX may not be comparable to similarly titled measures employed by other companies.
